1.0.0	When the configured V4 launcher page is opened, the launcher interface finishes loading without displaying a load error.	When the configured V4 launcher page is opened, the launcher interface finishes loading without displaying a load error.	The attempt-001 screenshots directly show the fully rendered Metricell Launcher interface with the module grid visible and no load error; the corresponding browser-derived URL is present and matches the expected V4 host (https://o2intelligence-v4-dev.metricell.com/launcher). Steps taken: Navigated to the configured V4 launcher URL.; Completed the required email-and-Continue authentication sequence.; Returned to the launcher for this criterion and waited for loading to finish.; Read the current URL from the browser and captured separate initial and final full-page PNG evidence.	Passed
